The Year's Not Over Yet . . .

Language Arts:

Even though it is the end of the year and we will not have many regular classes, students still have homework in every subject this week. The good news is everything is due Wednesday (except for the AR Journal, which is due Monday) and then students are free for the summer. Any work that students are able to hand in early would be greatly appreciated.

To give you a run down of the week, on Monday we will have Field Day all day. On Tuesday, we will have our Downtown Scavenger Hunt all day. On Wednesday, students will take a social studies test, play one last game of Context Clues, and spend the rest of the day going on an Internet Scavenger Hunt of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York for Literature. This assignment will not be for a grade, but it promises to be a fun and educational experience anyway. On Thursday, we will clean the classroom. And, on Friday, we will have a school-wide yearbook signing party and the awards ceremony.

Language Arts:

In language arts, students need to hand in their final portfolios on Wednesday. Students who did not hand in a blue WOW word last Friday need to hand one in on Wednesday. You can check Mygradebook to see who owes me WOW words.

Literature:

In literature, students need to turn in their AR Journals on Monday and their Postcard Journals for Ch. 10 on Wednesday.

Math:

In math, students need to complete p194 for Wednesday. I suggest they get their work checked by parents, because a several students were having difficulty with the page.

Social Studies:

In Social Studies, students need to prepare for their test on Ch. 12 on Wednesday.

Thank You:

Last, but not least, I want to thank you for giving me the privilege of teaching your children this year. They have been a wonderful group to teach and I want to wish them all the best in the future. If you ever need my assistance, please don't hesitate to call. My phone number is 356-5065 and my personal email is:

Finally, I want to thank all of you for being so supportive of me, the students, and the school. I think we all owe an extra special thank you to Jo Ann Greenberg for the stupendous job she did as room parent for our class. Wishing you all the best this summer and next year.

B'Shalom,

Nili
